Karen Winnick, chairman of the Winnick Family Foundation, will be honored in October by Syracuse University for her work as a children's book author and illustrator and as a literacy advocate.

Los Angeles, September 16, 2010 - Karen Winnick, chairman of the Winnick Family Foundation, will be honored in October by Syracuse University for her work as a children's book author and illustrator and as a literacy advocate. Winnick, who was graduated from Syracuse University in 1968, will receive the George Arents Award during the University's Orange Central homecoming celebration on Friday, October 15 on the Syracuse campus.

"I am pleased and honored to be one of the recipients of the George Arents Award," said Mrs. Winnick. "My experiences at SU set in motion so much of what has followed. I'm truly grateful for those four wonderful years."

Said Nancy Cantor, President and Chancellor of Syracuse University: "Karen Winnick is an author, artist, and philanthropist who has devoted her life to young people and service in the public arena. Her award-winning words and illustrations have delighted children all over the world, inspiring them to enjoy reading."

Karen Winnick's picture books include "Lucy's Cave," "Mr. Lincoln's Whiskers," "Sybil's Night Ride," "A Year Goes Round," "Barn Sneeze," "The Night of the Fireflies," "Cassie's Sweet Berry Pie," "Sandro's Dolphin" and "Patch & The Strings." Winnick often presents her work at elementary schools in the Los Angeles area, reading to young children to encourage literacy and cultivate the art of storytelling.

Winnick's paintings have been exhibited in local galleries, and her poetry has been published in magazines and anthologies. She has also produced a play, "Kindertransport," about Jewish children sent to England from Nazi Germany during World War II.

Added Cantor: "Winnick's work brings the past alive and allows young readers to discover the dramatic experiences of children in days gone by."

Winnick also serves as president of the Board of Commissioners of the Los Angeles Zoo; as a member of the Board of Governors of Hillel at Syracuse University; on the Board of Trustees Emeritus at Brown University; and on the boards of the United States Holocaust Memorial Council, the Jewish Museum, the Tufts University Library Board, Fauna & Flora International, and the Abraham Lincoln Presidential Library Foundation.
